Together we bring you The Koren Talmud Bavli firmly rooted in tradition but reaches out to the world, making the Talmud ever more relevant to today’s Jews. This new Talmud offers intellectual breadth, the most clear translation, and progressive learning tools, enabling students at every level to actively participate in a dynamic process of Talmud study that is both true to the past and resonant with the present.

AN ENHANCED VILNA PAGE

The standard edition of the Talmud was published in the 1880s in Vilna by “the widow” Deborah Romm and her sons. Koren has enhanced the Vilna page in a number of important ways, rendering these classical pages more accessible than ever.

- The Rashi commentary is vocalized (menukad) and punctuated
- The Mishna and Talmud texts are vocalized (menukad) and punctuated to facilitate pronunciation & comprehension
- The § symbol is used to indicate the end of a section
- The Tosafot commentaries are fully punctuated
- The text is completely digitally reset for greater clarity and legibility
- Each Rashi and Tosafot commentary begins with Talmudic text in the Vilna font and then continues in the Rashi font
- The page numbers refer to the English translation

Cream colored paper is easier on the eyes

Thousands of full color illustrations throughout the Talmud bring specific textual references and background information

The Hebrew and Aramaic text is duplicated next to the English translation in logical units

The direct translation of the text is in bold, while the elucidation and explanatory font is in a lighter font

Dialogue and poetic phrasing are presented with distinct line breaks, facilitating comprehension

Fully translated and referenced Tanakh quotes

Portions of the Talmud previously suppressed have been fully restored based upon careful study of manuscripts

The Perak and Daf is noted on all pages
