He serves as the chairman of the Bloomfield Science Museum and as the head of the «Amirim-Teva» honors program in the Hebrew University.

NIR SHAVIV

Nir Shaviv is an Associate Professor at the Racah Institute of Physics of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem.

His research focuses on various topics in astrophysics and climatology.

His most well known contribution in astrophysics was to demonstrate that objects can surpass the so called Eddington luminosity limit without blowing themselves apart by the extremely strong radiative flux.

This led to the prediction and discovery of supernova precursors. Shaviv has also been studying the effects that cosmic rays and the sun have on Earth's climate, on various time scales ranging from days to eons.

He has shown that passages through the galactic spiral arms gave rise to ice age epochs on Earth and that the solar variations must have a much larger climatic effect than commonly considered. This has led to significant media attention.

CUCA ROSETA
MELECH MECHAYA

CUCA ROSETA

Son premier album homonyme a été créé suite à une rencontre fortuite (certains diront prédestinée) avec le musicien argentin, compositeur et producteur, Gustavo Santaolalla - lauréat de deux Oscars de la meilleure musique de film.
Sur son deuxième album, c'est avec audace que Cuca Roseta donne encore plus d'elle-même ; Raíz en est le résultat. Elle a écrit ses chansons et paroles avec toute son âme. Elle y célèbre ce mystère durant ses performances live.
Le Fado ne permet pas de mensonges: la voix, le visage et le style ne sont pas importants - soit nous ressentons la vérité soit nous ne ressentons rien du tout. Et Cuca Roseta nous la fait définitivement ressentir.

Her debut and homonymous album was created on a fortuitous (some will say predestined) meeting with the Argentinian musician, composer and producer, Gustavo Santaolalla – winner of two Oscars for Best Sound Track.
On her second album, her boldness led Cuca Roseta to give more of herself, and Raíz is the result of that beautiful delivery. The album was created with her own songs and with her own lyrics coming from her inside out. And this is the mystery she celebrates on her live performances.
Fado allows no lies: the voice, the figure and the style are not that important – we either feel the truth or we don't feel nothing at all. And in Cuca Roseta we definitely feel it.

MELECH MECHAYA

Formé à Lisbonne fin 2006 avec João Graça au violon, Miguel Veríssimo à la clarinette, André Santos à la guitare, João Novais à la contrebasse et Francisco Caiado aux percussions, Melech Mechaya est reconnu aujourd'hui comme le premier et le plus important groupe de klezmer au Portugal. Leur son s'inspire aussi bien de la musique portugaise, que de la musique arabe ou des Balkans.
La carrière internationale de Melech Mechaya connaît une croissance rapide. Avec une forte présence en Espagne, où ils ont été les vedettes de plusieurs festivals et ont joué avec des artistes comme Portico Quartet et Kroke. Melech Mechaya s'est produit en Croatie, au Brésil et au Cap-Vert.

Formed in Lisbon in late 2006 with João Graça on the violin, Miguel Veríssimo on the clarinet, André Santos on the guitar, João Novais on the doublebass and Francisco Caiado on the percussion set, Melech Mechaya are appointed today as the first and most prominent klezmer band in Portugal. The sound of the group is also inspired by the portuguese, balkan and arabian music.
Melech Mechaya's international career has been growing rapidly. With a strong presence in Spain, where they were headliners of several festivals and shared stages with artists like Portico Quartet and Kroke, Melech Mechaya have performed in Croatia, Brazil and Cape Verde.

LA FONDATION MATANEL

PARTENAIRE DE LA CONFÉRENCE

LA VOCATION DE DONNER
POUR ENCOURAGER L'ENTREPREUNARIAT SOCIAL

Donner est une manière de se régénérer. De se dépenser pour ceux qui sont dans la gêne et la peine. De réparer autant que possible des vies grevées par le manque et le besoin, de dégager des horizons encombrés, de détendre des pressions qui étriquent le quotidien.
On ne donne pas sans se donner et ce don de soi se veut un encouragement. Un accompagnement aussi. Sur un petit tronçon de vie. Pour toutes les personnes qui s'attellent avec nous à redistribuer ce qui a été donné. Peut-être par hasard; sûrement pour partager.

Dans l'espoir que ceux qui reçoivent aujourd'hui donneront demain, perpétuant la chaîne du don. Sinon eux, alors leurs descendants. La Fondation Matanel s'inscrit dans une tradition du don qui recouvre plus de justice distributive que de mendicité.

De nouveau, le rêve. De créer un monde meilleur. De composer son hymne. D'écrire son livre. De contribuer sa quote-part à la création continue. Chacun porte en soi un germe de créativité, rares sont ceux qui le cultivent, encore plus rares ceux qui partagent ses fruits. Ces derniers ont besoin d'un encouragement qui les inciterait à persister et à se surpasser. Pour que nous puissions garantir l'accès à la culture pour tous.

GRANTED TO GIVE ENCOURAGING SOCIAL ENTREPRENEURSHIP

By giving, we renew ourselves. We put our energy helping the grief-stricken people in financial straits, mending lives strained by loss and need, clearing up darkened horizons, and easing tensions that bear down on daily pursuits.
By giving, we give of ourselves, and by giving of ourselves we encourage others. We walk with them, hand in hand, on a stretch of the road. For too short a time, unfortunately. Together with all those who join us, we redistribute what has been given, perhaps by chance – but definitely in order to share.

The Matanel Foundation does this with the hope that today's recipients will be tomorrow's donors and will pass on the value of giving…and if they don't, their descendants will. The Matanel Foundation shares beautiful tradition, which has more in common with distributive justice than with almsgiving.

Dreaming again. Dreaming of creating a better world, of composing our own hymn, of writing our own book, of contributing our share to a never-ending creation. The seed of creativity can be found in each of us, but only a few cultivate it, and even fewer reap and share the fruits of their labor. The latter need encouragement to carry on and surpass themselves so that, together, we can ensure everyone has access to culture.
